Creating and Implementing your Solarize Campaign

NYSERDA is now accepting applications for Solarize campaigns launching in the Spring of 2016! NYSERDA will support selected Solarize campaigns through Community Solar NY by providing technical assistance, marketing materials, and funding. Communities interested in the program must attend a free Solarize Workshop; the next workshop is Thursday, November 05 from 9am to 1pm at 847 Main St., Buffalo 14203. For event details, please contact communitysolar@nyserda.ny.gov. This PV Trainer's Network Solarize training prepares communities to implement a group purchasing campaign through the Community Solar NY initiative. Solarize programs are an effective way for communities to act together to accomplish clean energy goals. These programs simplify the process of going solar, educate the public, reduce the costs, and promote a strong sense of community. In this session, a prerequisite for communities that wish to participate in the second round of Community Solar NY, Solarize experts will discuss how to create a successful Solarize campaign. This includes how to develop a strong campaign team and outreach strategy, tips for implementing a campaign over several months, lessons learned from previous Solarize campaigns in New York State and nationwide. Communities have until November 16th to submit an application. Info at Solarize Workshops

PUSH Building Blocks Breakfast

On November 10, 2015 PUSH (People United for Sustainable Housing) is hosting the annual Building Blocks fundraising breakfast from 8 to 9am at Temple Beth Zion located at 805 Delaware Avenue, Buffalo, 14209. Check in is from 7:30-8am. Parking is available in the parking lot on a first come, first serve basis. Additionally, parking rules will be relaxed on Delaware and Barker Aves during the event. This is a FREE one-hour program for people to learn about PUSH. Yes, it is a fundraiser, and you will be asked to consider making a contribution. However, no minimum gift required. We want people to find out about all of our amazing services. We would be delighted if you could attend. To register or for info, contact Julia at 716.882.2672 or juliawhite@pushbuffalo.org

Webinar: Winter Operations & Maintenance for Green Infrastructure

A free Environmental Protection Agency webinar on November 3 from 1-2:30pm will highlight winter maintenance of green infrastructure. The webinar will include two sessions: Green Infrastructure Maintenance: Facts, Fiction, Cold Weather, and Costs and Clean Water & Safe Roads: Finding the Balance. Maintenance is a common concern raised which may prevent adoption of green infrastructure because it is relatively new and does not fit within the traditional maintenance practices for community infrastructure. There is also concern that green infrastructure systems will freeze and be completely ineffective in cold regions. The second part of the session will showcase a Minnesota program that has developed a plan to ensure clean water while promoting winter road safety. For more info, Register!

Learn How to Help Wildlife : Fall Rehabilitation Course

Learn how to lend a helping hand and provide proper emergency stabilizing treatment to injured, orphaned, and distressed wildlife living in your community. Hawk Creek Wildlife Center's Fall Wildlife Rehabilitation Course is an intensive eight hour learning experience being offered to the public Saturday and Sunday, November 14 and 15, 2015 from 12:00 pm to 4:00 pm. This special course is taught by licensed wildlife rehabilitators sharing over 25 years of real life experience, up-to-date technical information, incredible stories, and invaluable wisdom. The course is open to adults, age sixteen or older, who are preparing to take the NYSDEC wildlife rehabilitation exam or are just interested in expanding their knowledge. Pre-registration is required. The eight hour course is $100 per person. To register please visit online store or contact Hawk Creek Wildlife Center 716-652-8646

Worms May Help Eat Plastic

Every year, 6.4 million tons of plastic is dumped into the ocean with additional plastics sent to landfills and littering the ground. New research at Stanford has shown that the tiny mealworm (actually beetle larvae) might just help us solve our massive plastic problem. The larvae can eat and survive on a styrofoam diet, because microorganisms in their gut break down the plastic into byproducts of W K H Z R U P V \ J X W V E L R G H J U D G H W K H T e O d y s t e m e F m a x i a l t o v e r t e d K i d G L J H V

Cool Harvest Resource for Climate Change & Diet

Cool Harvest is a food faith and climate program. Food is central to religious rituals to sacraments to soup kitchens and looking more carefully at our food choices can be a revealing exercise. November

Thanksgiving is a great reminder to look for the joy around us and be thankful every day for the blessings in our lives. This year, as you plan your holiday dinner, keep two words in mind: organic and local, they will guarantee a healthier, more nutritious meal.

Going green on Thanksgiving does not have to be complicated. Buying local ensures 1) that more of the money spent on food goes to the local farmer; 2) it keeps your dollars circulating in your own community; and 3) cuts down on the distance that food travels thus reducing the consumption of oil and carbon emissions nationwide. A bag of carrots is often transported east from Los Angeles, CA, more than 2,500 miles away. Buy from local farmers; squash, sweet potatoes, yams, apples, pears, spices and a variety of greens are all readily available at this

Ongoing Volunteer Opportunities Available
